SAME FIRM GETS OIL CONTRACT

Indiana Road Preserving Company of
This City Awarded Job Because
it is Low Bidder.

WERE FOUR OTHERS AFTER IT

Contract Price is $1.35 Per Hundred
Square Yards Cheaper Than it
Was Last Year.

The Indiana Road Preserving Company was awarded the oiling contract by the city council at the special meeting last night. The bid of this firm was 24 cents a square yard, and as it was the lowest of the five received, it was accepted by the council.

The contract price figures at three and three-quarters cents a lineal foot on a thirty-six foot street. The price is lower than last year. This is the same company that did the work last year. Their bid last year was 3 and 80/100 cents a square yard which made it 5.1 cents a lineal foot. From this it will be seen that on a thirty-six foot street the price for the oiling this year is 1 and 35/100 cents cheaper than last year.

The Indiana Road Preserving Company plans to start the work as soon as the weather permits. The contract was signed last night and the bond placed at $3,000. It is estimated that the contractor this year will receive $2,500 less than last year because of the low price and because several of the streets that were oiled last year were not included in the improvement resolution this year. The council was well satisfied with the contract price.

The Southern Asphaltolene Road Company of Louisville, Ky., was the next low bidder. This firm offered to do the work for 2 and 85/100 cents a square yard. A. R. Herkless of this city bid 2 and 99/100 cents a square yard. These were the only bids below three cents a square yard.

Williams and House of Franklin submitted a bid of three cents a square yard. The fifth bidder was Wilk and Co., of this city, with a bid of 3 and 21/100 cents a square yard.

The council also contracted for a sprinkler last night. Propositions were submitted by two firms and the wagon was bought from the American Good Roads Machine company of Ohio. The price was $300 F. O. B. Rushville. The Studebaker people offered a wagon for $312. The ordinance appropriating money for the purchase of the sprinkler was passed at the last meeting of the council.

MARRIED SOME TIME AGO

Secret Wedding of Helen Williamson
and N. E. Grady Announced.

It was admitted today that Miss Helen Williamson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williamson, 311 West First street, and N. E. Grady, a telegraph operator at the Pennsylvania railroad station, had been married for some time. Mrs. Grady refused to state when or where the marriage took place, but declared that it was "near the first of the year." The marriage license was not issued here. At least the marriage license records in the clerk's office in the court house do not show it.

The Falmouth schools will close Friday of this week. The commencement will be held on April 28.

SCHOOL RECOMMISSIONED

Superintendent Scholl Receives
Word From C. A. Greathouse.

Superintendent J. H. Scholl received word yesterday from State Superintendent Charles A. Greathouse that the Rushville high school had been recommissioned. Under date of April 9 from Indianapolis, Mr. Greathouse writes that "At a meeting of the State Board of Education April 7 the commission of the Rushville high school was reissued in the name of the school. Your inspector commends the fine spirit of the school and the good equipment, especially in the library."

SEE DEGREE WORK UP AT GREENFIELD

Twenty-Two Knights of Pythias
From Here Make Trip in Five Automobiles Monday Night.

A BANQUET SERVED GUESTS

Twenty-two Knights of Pythias from Rushville attended degree work by the subordinate lodge of Knights of Pythias in Greenfield last night. Twenty-one members of the local lodge went up in automobiles and one Rushville knight who was already there returned with the local crowd.

The amplified first degree was conferred on one candidate by the Greenfield degree staff. All of the members of Company No. 91, Greenfield lodge of Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, appeared in full uniform and gave an exhibition drill for the visiting knights. Following the work a banquet was served and the Rushville lodgemen did not arrive home until after midnight.

The crowd went in automobiles belonging to Walter Hubbard, W. O. Feudner, Odice Jones, Ray Lakin and Norm Norris.

FIRST GRADUATING EXERCISES FRIDAY

High School Will Take Place at Center Church.

EXAMINATIONS ON SATURDAY

The first high school commencement of the season will be held Friday evening at the Center church when six students of the Center high school will receive diplomas. The other high school commencements will follow in rapid order. The Rev. Clyde Black of Milroy will deliver the commencement address at Center. This year's class is composed of the following: the Misses Marion Stoten, Mabel Webster, May Hackleman, Lillian Clark, Ruth McBride and Albert N. Anderson.

Eighth year examinations will be held Saturday in the remaining townships that did not hold the examinations last month. The examinations will be held as follows: Rushville, teachers' examination room; Anderson, Milroy; Washington, Raleigh; Richland; Posey, Arlington; Jackson, Osborn school and Center at the Center school.

The Red Men will meet at 7:30 tonight, matters of importance will come before the Lodge and the adoption degree will be conferred.

DEATH MRS. W. E. SMITH BIG SHOCK

Wide Circle of Friends and Relatives
Lament Unexpected Demise of Young Married Woman.

SHE WAS SICK JUST ONE WEEK

Ptomaine Develops Into Peritonitis
Which Causes Death—Funeral
Wednesday Afternoon.

Mrs. Edith B. Smith, 27 years old, wife of Walter E. Smith, died last night at ten o'clock at their home in North Jackson street, after an illness of one week. The death of Mrs. Smith came as a great shock to a wide circle of friends and relatives. One week ago yesterday Mrs. Smith was taken ill with ptomaine poisoning and peritonitis developed. She gradually grew weaker and the end came last night at ten o'clock. Her death had not been expected and for this reason the shock was all the more severe.

Mrs. Smith was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McMillin, of near Gings. She was born July 12, 1887. Besides her husband and parents, Mrs. Smith is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Ruby Logan and Mrs. Nellie Logan.

The funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at the Main street Christian church by the Rev. C. M. Yocum, assisted by the Rev. L. E. Murray, of Richmond. The cortege will leave the residence at two o'clock. Friends may call tonight and Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Smith was prominently identified with a number of women's clubs and with the Main Street Christian church. She was very popular and well liked and took a very active interest in club and church work.

SEES EARLY NEED OF SPANISH TONGUE

Dr. R. L. Snyder Back From South,
Says it Should be Taught in Public Schools Now.

USED IN NEW TRADE CHANNEL

Dr. Leonard W. Snyder, known as the Boys' Minister throughout the United States, who, together with Lawrence Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Payne, has returned from a trip through the south, said today that the thing that he deemed of much importance for the schools to take up just now was the study of Spanish. He explains that because the South American trade which is coming to the United States because of the European war, Spanish will be a much-used language in the business of the nation, and that it is the duty of the schools to equip the children today to conduct the business of tomorrow. Dr. Snyder says that Spanish has been introduced in the schools of the south for the reasons he assigns and believes that it would be the proper thing for the schools of the north. Dr. Snyder will leave in the morning for points in Missouri, and after a week's travel, will go east again.

ELKS BANQUET POSTPONED.

The Elks reception and banquet which was to have been given at the club rooms Thursday evening was postponed today until some time next week on account of the death of Mrs. Walter E. Smith.

HONOR ROLL IS PRINTED TODAY

Keen Competition Aroused Over
Spelling Contest Being Conducted
in City Schools.

BIG IMPROVEMENT NOTED

Prize is For Name of Every Pupil
Receiving Perfect Grade to Appear
in Rushville Papers.

Because of the keen competition that has been aroused in the Rushville public schools through the contest arranged by Superintendent J. H. Scholl, a great improvement in spelling has already been noted. Today, for the first time, the names of those who received a hundred per cent in spelling are published. The winning pupils are looking forward with some anticipation to see their names on the honor roll.

The contest is for the pupils of the fourth to the eighth grades inclusive. It was announced last week. The children were told that all those who were perfect in spelling every Friday for three weeks would get into the honor roll, which would be published in the Rushville newspapers. While the averages were fine, Superintendent Scholl said today many pupils who missed one word deserved commendation. The honor roll follows:

130 CHICKS ARE CONSUMED

Fire on Frank Sample Farm Early Today Causes Slight Loss.

Fire starting from a brooder resulted in the loss of $130 little chickens and a slight property damage at the home of Leslie Drake, on the Frank Sample farm, north of the city, this morning at three o'clock. The brooder was in a shed in the rear of the residence and it was only after the hardest kind of work that the house was saved. The shed was destroyed, along with the contents. The chickens, brooder and incubator were the property of Mr. Drake.

ARE DRIVING FRENCH OUT, BERLIN CLAIMS

Germans Are Steadily Closing in
on Enemy in La Pretrie Forest
Near Pont-A-Mousson.

FEEBLE OFFENSIVE TRIALS

Berlin, (By Wireless to London), April 13.—The French are slowly being driven out of La Pretrie forest northwest of Pont-A-Mousson. The kaiser's troops, according to an official announcement today from the war office, are steadily closing in on the narrow stretch of woodland still held by the enemy. Fierce fighting is going on in this region both day and night. The French have made a few feeble attacks, particularly east of Verdun. All these have been repulsed.

In Alsace, swollen mountain streams that hindered the fighting are slowly receding and the French have made several attempts at an offensive. The situation on the eastern battle front remains unchanged.

FIFTEEN DAYS TO FILE EXEMPTIONS

County Auditor's Office Calls Attention
of Taxpayers to Approach
of End of Season.

TO EXEMPT YOUR MORTGAGES

Warning has been sent out by the county auditor's office that only fifteen days remain in which to file mortgage exemptions. The exemptions have not been coming in as rapidly this year as last and the officials in the office fear a grand rush towards the end of the period.

It is necessary for the exemptions to be sworn to before a notary or a justice of peace. Any notary or a justice can properly make out the exemptions. Several have been filed with the auditor and with but fifteen days remaining the exemptions should come in fast from now until the close of the period.

A BIT BUSY FOR A TOURIST

Huerta, Arrived in New York, Studies Mexican Question.

New York, April 13.—For a professional, casual tourist enjoying himself by traveling, Victorano Huerta, former dictator of Mexico, was exceedingly busy today studying the Mexican situation. This, at least, was the declaration of Abraham Retner, his business associate and a member of the Huerta party.

PROBABLY WILL NOT GET BONDS

Likely Mayor Roberts and Other
Convicted Terre Haute Men Will
Have to go to Leavenworth.

UNLESS TAGGART HELPS THEM

He Indemnified Roberts' Bond When
The Mayor Was Indicted—
Five Men Return to Homes.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 13.—An even hundred Terre Haute conspirators were in jail here today, occupying cells in the "Federal Row." Among them was Mayor Donn M. Roberts, who drew a sentence of six years in Leavenworth prison and a fine of $2,000. Roberts occupied a cell next to Vernie Lewis the Terre Haute flatiron murderer who killed a mother and her three children recently and was brought here to escape mob vengeance.

There seems little likelihood that Roberts and other convicted men could provide bonds unless assisted by Thomas Taggart who indemnified Roberts' $10,000 bond when he was indicted. L. C. Breunig, representing the National Surety company which was indemnified by the national committeemen, said today it would be extremely difficult to provide bonds because someone would have to make a deposit to cover a portion of the costs of the present trial, the cost of the trial in the court of appeals in Chicago and, in Roberts' case, the fine of $2,000. He said the one who indemnified the bonds must make this deposit with the surety company.

Roberts was not as fore-handed this time as previously and today when he was served bread, molasses and black coffee, he did not produce a lump of sugar.

George Kintz, sentenced to serve three months in jail, was admitted to jail today. When he tried to get in last night the jailer refused to admit him because he did not have proper papers. He was forced to pay additional hotel bill as a result.

Maurice Walsh who obtained a $1,500 campaign contribution from Crawford Fairbanks, the millionaire brewer and Democratic state leader, today told Judge Anderson he would not appeal. The court then allowed Walsh his freedom until Sunday on Walsh's promise that he would leave Terre Haute for Leavenworth Sunday. This is the fifth man Judge Anderson has allowed to

Spring and Sports!

Through the opened windows of the office comes the soft languid air of cheerful Spring, herald of lovely Summer.

Indeed the atmosphere is pregnant with unrest.

It is Mother Earth wooing us to come out and meet her at close range.

Suddenly I remember my golf sticks; my secretary makes a memorandum to get out her tennis racket, and my office-boy has, I notice, his baseball and bat hidden behind his desk.

This is a good time to look over; purchase or repair the golf stick, tennis racket, saddle, etc., and in the advertising columns of The Daily Republican will be found from day to day the announcements of sporting goods houses which carry a fine supply of articles of this character.

GRAIN MARKET IS EASIER

Wheat, Corn and Oats Show Only Slight Losses Today.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, April 13.—The grain market was a little easier today, although there was little change in prices. May wheat was quoted at $1.56½, closing five-eighths of a cent off. July wheat was down one-half cent and September one-quarter, the former closing at $1.23½, and the latter at $1.10½. May corn declined seven-eighths of a cent, closing at 72½ cents, and July corn closed at 75½, a loss of a half cent. September corn options were down a like amount. May oats was off seven-eighths of a cent and July and September one-eighth.

SOAP IS BAD FOR THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.
The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.
One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

HOOSIER HISTORY

(Prepared by the United Press from records in the State Library.)

Some Hoosiers who gave a good account of themselves in the Mexican war were Lewis Wallace the well known author; General Joseph Lane, brigade commander; Governor Jas. Whitcomb, Adjutant General; David Reynolds and Captains R. H. Milroy, Nathan Kimball and W. A. Gorman. These three captains became generals during the Civil War and Wallace proved a valuable man during the later war.

The five regiments forced for service in the Mexican war were the first soldiers of Indiana to be regularly organized and serve in war. Their record was honorable.

OUTSIDE HELP IS NOT NEEDED

Muncie Believes People Are Capable of Cleaning City's Skirts as Shown in Indictments

IS NOT ANOTHER TERRE HAUTE

Should Mayor Bunch be Found Guilty He Would Automatically be Removed From Office.

(By United Press.)

Muncie, Ind., April 13.—Muncie is not another Terre Haute, despite the fact that the Delaware county grand jury has returned over 100 indictments, naming among others the mayor, chief of police, president of the board of police commissioners and the deputy prosecuting attorney. This is the assertion of local men who point out what they say are essential differences between the Muncie and the Terre Haute situations.

"That the people can run their own affairs and clean the city's skirts without outside help is eloquently indicated by present investigations," said Geo. Lockwood, editor and publisher of the Muncie Press. "There is no charge in Muncie that the entire official system is corrupt. There is not the breath of suspicion against the courts, and it is still as easy to get justice in Muncie as in any other city in the country. The present administration has been in power in Muncie but little over a year and already charges of corruption have been met with rigid investigation."

Lockwood pointed out that in Terre Haute "the citizens have been boss ridden for years and the county and city form one machine, where open minded grand juries are unknown quantities." The present procedure whereby Muncie intends to purge itself would be impossible in Terre Haute. He said Muncie would not need to call on the federal government for help.

"It must not be supposed from this that we presume the indicted men are guilty," he said. "They should be tried in the courts; not in the newspapers."

Mayor Rollin H. Bunch, Chief of Police William McVaine and Herbert S. Maddy, president of the board of police commissioners, were arrested April 1 charged with demanding and accepting bribes. C. Roy Hathaway real estate dealer and promoter, was arrested charged with counseling, inciting and procuring bribes. Deputy Prosecutor Gene Williams, who was out of town, faced the same charge as the first three. All gave $2,000 bond and were released.

According to the indictment, McVaine, Maddy and Bunch on Nov. 20, 1914, and on each of the six successive weeks received from Elmer Schell, then owner of the Club cigar store, the sum of $15. The purpose of the bribes, it is alleged, was to protect Schell in the illicit operation of a "blind tiger," and the operation of various gaming devices in his cigar store.

Should Mayor Bunch be found guilty, he would automatically be removed from office, for among the indictments is one charging malfeasance in office. It practically amounts to a charge of conspiring to permit all forms of law violations to continue in Muncie.

"The more charges they return the merrier," said Mayor Bunch.

Drama of Pennsylvania Anthracite Coal Tax is Slowly but Expensively Enacted

AT RATE OF 25 CENTS A TON

Law Was Aimed to Protect State From Outsiders—Eighteen Million a Year

(By United Press.)

Harrisburg, Pa., Apr. 13.—While the ultimate consumer merrily pays twenty-five cents a ton extra for his hard coal, the drama of the Pennsylvania anthracite coal tax law is slowly but expensively being enacted in the Keystone State. The action has been developing for over a year and a half, the coal companies are $18,000,000 richer than when the curtain went up, and the show is not half over, experts claim.

The entire situation grew out of a desire of conservationists and others to give Pennsylvania ample doses of gold dollars to offset the pain of seeing one of her principal natural resources, anthracite coal—carted off to other states, to keep their enterprises going, while this state got only the price of the coal and a residue of mother earth "good for nothing after the coal was taken out." So in 1913 a law was enacted putting a tax of 2 1/2 percent of the value of hard coal at the mines. This was a levy of ten cents a ton. Half of the tax so collected was to be returned to the counties wherein the coal was mined. Experts claim that 80 per cent, of anthracite mined in Pennsylvania is shipped into other states.

It was figured by the Auditor General that the statute would bring in between four and five million of dollars revenue a year. The measure was effective July 1, 1913 and state officials figured that $2,300,000 was owing to the state Jan. 1, 1914. The coal companies immediately instituted a test suit against the constitutionality of the act, claiming it was invalid because it was special legislation, soft coal being exempted from the provision of the law. After about $20,000 has been paid into the state treasury by the coal operators they decided to discontinue further payments until the constitutionality of the act was settled.

However, the coal operators have been collecting the tax assiduously. According to experts, the companies have been levying twenty-five cents a ton extra on anthracite in order to "defray the additional cost of meeting the statute's provisions." At the present time over $7,000,000 is due the state, while $18,000,000 have been added to the nation's fuel bill, according to experts.

To make the drama more interesting, while the Dauphin county court is considering the appeal case, the coal companies are endeavoring to have the statute repealed. Should the statute be repealed, another measure covering the constitutional objection in the present law, will be immediately submitted. If Dauphin county court decides against the operators, an appeal will be taken to the state supreme court.

WAS SURPRISE TO HAMILTON

Defeat of Fast Rushville Team Was Not Expected by Fans of That City Sunday.

TEAM LET DOWN WITH 3 HITS

Lefty Fox Forced in First Run by Base on Balls—Lone Marker Made in Fourth Round.

The defeat of the Rushville team Sunday by Hamilton came as a surprise to the Hamilton fans as they did not believe their team was fast enough to turn the trick. The following from the Hamilton Republican—News will be of interest to the fans here:

Few of the three hundred fans who went to League Park Sunday to see the first Sunday game of the season had any idea that the local team would beat the strong Rushville nine, but the bugs went home happily disappointed.

Rushville's team was composed of some of the strongest semi-pro-talent that can be obtained in Cincinnati, while the Champion Hamiltons are still more or less of an experiment.

Undismayed by the strong line-up of the Rushville team the Hamilton boys played some real baseball, and at the end of the afternoon were on the long end of a 3 to 1 score. Dannerhauer's pitching was the outstanding feature. He had such famous sluggers as Sandman Badel and others rolling weak grounders to the infielders and though in danger several times pitched himself out of holes with skill and courage.

His support was steady, and at times sensational. Rushville being held to three hits.

Hamilton scored first in the third when with three on base. Fox walked Tamer forcing in a run. Another was added in the fourth on singles by O'Dell and Cash and a pass to Hetterich. Hamilton's final run in the fifth was made on a hit and two errors.

Rushville scored their lone marker in the fourth round when Cordes, singled went to third on a wild heave by Einsfield and scored on Schenker's single. After the fifth inning neither team scored.

ORGANIZED BALL OPENS TOMORROW

Everything is Set for Big Blow off in Both American and National Leagues

STOVE LEAGUE CURTAIN DOWN

BY HAL SHERIDAN

New York, Apr. 13.—"Gopher ticket" is the fans' question today, straining at the tape for the big blow off of the 1915 baseball season tomorrow of Organized Baseball. The National and American Leagues' premier is scheduled tomorrow and in metropolis of east and west the rush for the coveted pasteboards is on today.

In the American League, at Philadelphia, Washington, St. Louis, and Detroit the curtain raisers will be held. To avoid conflicts under the "gentlemen's agreement" against competition the National League will open at Boston, New York, Cincinnati and Chicago.

For one day at least the Feds will step into the baseball background while their rivals hold the center of the stage for their 1915 premier.

From all parts of the big leagues circuit today some pennant prognostications of the managers and announcements of opening batteries. Anyway today rings down the curtain on the "Stove League."

COUNTRY CLUB NOT TO BE ABANDONED

Members Decide to Make Repairs at Once and Prepare For Another Season at Grounds.

IDEAL PLACE FOR SUPPERS

Members of the Rushville Country club decided last night not to abandon the club grounds east of the city, although it had been generally understood after the annual meeting last Tuesday night that the grounds and a club house would be given up.

Work will be started immediately preparing the tennis courts for play and fixing up the grounds.

Following the annual meeting a committee was appointed to see if tennis courts could be located in Rushville. It was thought then it would be best to abandon the club grounds because every winter vandals destroy the club's property.

Last night, however, members of the club decided that the present location was much better than any which could be found because, although it is outside of the corporation limits, it is not so far that it is inconvenient to get to it. The place is ideal for picnic parties and country suppers. It is a favorite place when the weather gets warm. The automatic trap will be returned and trap shooting will cease to be a feature of the club's activities.

Rheumatism In Ankles

One bottle of Rheuma Relieved Woman Who Could Not Walk

Marvelous as this story may seem, it is absolutely true; but this is only one of the many almost magical cures that Rheuma is performing these days. Use of one bottle will convince any sufferer.

Mrs. Gertrude Kozel, Smithfield, Pa., writes: "I had rheumatism for over a year; it settled in my ankles and I could not walk. I have taken one bottle of Rheuma and do not have any more pain, and I can again walk at will."

F. B. Johnson and all druggists sell Rheuma for 50 cents. It is guaranteed to cure any case of any kind of rheumatism or money back.

Gratifying relief comes in a day, because Rheuma acts at one time on the kidneys, stomach, liver and blood and starts to rid the entire system of poisonous uric acid at once.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or Bladder troubles you—Salts is fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

DENVER MELANGE, No. 2

Another "Potpourri" of Divers Peculiarities
Observed in Denver.

[By J. Feudner.]

Under the heading of "A Denver Melange, or a Potpourri of Out-of-the-Ordinaries," which appeared in the Daily Republican last July, I mentioned some of the things observed here in Denver which are characteristic of the city. I now have a few more observations to add to the former list.

Recently I saw the strange spectacle of the city sprinkler springling the street to lay the dust, while on the south side of the street (on the north side of the buildings) lay a two-foot bank of snow and ice. At another place, where there was a gas pipe railing, a streak of snow about the same thickness as the gas pipe. At another place a woman was in the habit of hanging up daily washings. In the shade of this washing the snow and ice remained long after it had disappeared elsewhere. In Colorado it is always cool in the shade, and long after the ice and snow has melted where the sun strikes, it remains in the shade.

The system of delivering goods here by the merchants is somewhat different from what I have seen elsewhere. Boys on bicycles are employed to a great extent. They are provided with a double canvas sack with a hole between the receptacles through which they slip their head. Part of the load rests on their backs and the other part on their breasts. They can constantly be seen throughout the city, sometimes carrying tremendous loads. Of course automobiles and other delivery wagons are also used, but the boy on the wheel is a feature.

The Greek shoe shiners, who have invaded the field all over the United States, are threatened with serious competition. Here in Denver a "Ladies' Shoe Shining Parlor" has been opened where good-looking girls do the shining for 5 cents. "Madge's Shoe Shining Parlor" reads the sign over the establishment, and "Have your shined by the girls" reads their advertisement.

Since living in Denver, I have often seen couples walking through the business streets "holding hands." Not alone young couples, but old couples as well. If this custom of "holding hands" and walking through the streets is in vogue in other cities where I have been, I must have been blind—I never saw it until I came to Denver.

The practice of making "short cuts" across lots and across the intersections of streets, is quite noticeable here. Denver has a great many vacant lots which grow a profusion of Russian thistles during the summer. Most of these lots have a path diagonally across them to make a short cut. Most cities have traffic regulations which require that pedestrians cross the street squarely over the corner. But not so in Denver. Cutting diagonally across the intersection is quite common.

The moving of household goods in immense vans is quite a business in Denver, and several large concerns make it their business to move, store or ship household goods. This is because Denver is a tourist town and a health resort with a large transient population. On this account there is a great deal of moving in and out, and the storing of goods is also quite an extensive business. Each company in this business has large storage warehouses. The moving vans are usually drawn by three heavy draft horses abreast, but one company now has a three-wheeled heavy auto truck, under the van in place of the front wheels.

The newspaper venders in Denver are of all classes and sizes—from the small boy to the strong and husky young man and the old men and cripples. Besides these, young girls, middle-aged and old women regularly stand on the street corners selling papers. Denver has two leading papers—the Post (afternoon paper) and the News (morning paper) which publishes an afternoon edition under the name of The Times. The price of each paper is two cents. But the same news venders handle papers on the streets and sell the two "for a nickel." (One cent extra profit.)

I never before saw a man's business advertised on his tombstone until I visited "Fairmount" cemetery, near Denver, last week. On the main business street in Denver (16th street) is located the "Pell Fish and Oyster House," and on the Pell cemetery lot stands a shaft 8 feet high with the name "Pell" in large letters and underneath two big fish carved in relief.

While Denver may be a little different from most other cities, in the main it has some things common with all American cities. It has its periodical "moral spasms." A "spasm" started two or three weeks ago, and it may be only a preliminary political move on the part of the police department before the spring election, which takes place next month. Denver has a commission form of government.

By the way, I have mentioned in some of my former articles that Denver (and Colorado, too) was over-reformed. Denver is now threatened with a petition to adopt an amendment to introduce the Henry George single tax system of taxation. A recent editorial in one of Denver's papers, under the heading "Deliver us from professional reformers," says: "A coterie of professional reformers that has been using Denver as an experiment station for a number of years is out again in its spring attire for more amendments to a very much amended city charter, including a single-tax provision."

The other day after the German cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich was interned, the paper had this editorial: "If our professional reforming friends in Denver are wise, they will follow the example of the German captain and go under cover, remove their sirens and their foghorns and keep quiet to save going into the port of missing politicians. The people are not in a mood this year for foolishness. Next month they will be busy receiving and entertaining hosts of travelers from the East. The less agitation the better. Denver has had its fill of experiments; it wants time to attend to business. Single taxes, reactionaries, visionaries, agitators, please take notice!"

Business men, real estate men, taxpayers and others are organizing against the single tax movement. The people are about getting tired of being reformed.

I noticed in a recent issue of the Daily Republican that a young lady from near Rushville came to Denver to get married, and that the groom had a farm near Ault, Colorado. The latter is a mistake. There is no such a thing as a "farm" in Colorado. They are called "ranches!" These "ranches" are in size from one acre to 5000 acres or even the size of a whole township. Whenever I hear people talking about "ranches" it sounds to me like a joke. When you see a ranch owner you are not sure whether he is a prince or a pauper. A 5000 acre ranch owner may not be as well off as a Rush county farmer with 80 acres of land.

And this reminds me of the weather. The Colorado boosters claim 305 days of sunshine during the year. But last year it rained so much in Colorado that the "dry" farmer had a record crop. The fact is, the "dry" farmer in Colorado had as much rain, if not more, than the "wet" farmer in Indiana last year. This spring it is starting out with a great many cloudy days and considerable rain. The Colorado people reluctantly admit that their climate has changed, and that there is a much heavier rainfall than years ago.

A few weeks ago I stated in one of my articles that a clergyman in Denver was so strongly English that he sent his wife to England whenever a visit from the stork was expected, so that even his children might be born English subjects. Two weeks ago the Denver Chamber of Commerce (who advocate "Patronize Home Industry") sent this clergyman a letter praising Colorado and Denver made goods, and the letter contained the following paragraph: "You stand in the eyes of many people of Denver as the chief exponent here of the old custom of buying their supplies away from home. In fact, it has been said this custom with you extends beyond the borders of the United States and that even the maid who serves at your table is imported from England."

To this charge that he bought his goods in England, the clergyman impudently answered through the papers:

"I buy everything I need in Denver except my clerical clothes (he wears no others.) These I buy from a tailor in London, just because I cannot get them made right here. I have been buying my clothes from the London tailor for 45 years and I shall continue to do so until I go."

The American tailors are evidently not good enough to make clothes for an Englishman.

FRENCH ARMY IS IN PINK OF CONDITION

Enters Spring Campaign Stronger

War's Beginning

WILD FLOWERS IN WAR ZONE

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS

Paris, April 13.—The most important—probably the most decisive campaign of the great war—has begun with the French army in the pink of condition, stronger and more effective by far than at the beginning last summer.

I have just returned from the trenches. Spring has come to the war zone. The preliminary clashes of the great death struggle in northern France are being fought amid a fairy land of wild flowers.

By official invitation I made the trip to the French front. Before leaving I was told I might see anything I wished.

CASE INVOLVES AMERICAN SHIP

Wilhelmina Will Come Before British Prize Court Soon—Detained Under Embargo

ENGLAND MUST PAY FOR FOOD

(By United Press.) London Apr. 13.—Trial in the British prize court of the case of the steamer Wilhelmina the American food ship detained under the British anti-German food embargo was scheduled today. The case is among those on the calendar for the Easter court term, but may not be reached for a few days.

Counsel for the St. Louis owner of the Wilhelmina's food cargo today outlined the United States' case, which was the subject of sharp protest from the State Department. It will be contended that the food cargo was consigned to the American owner at Bremen and therefore, was not subject to confiscation by the German government for military purposes. Great Britain on the other hand, will contend that the German military authorities could have seized the food and thus evade England's "starvation" policy against Germany.

The Wilhelmina itself is not seized and, if her cargo is confiscated England will pay her owners for the food seized.

Wilhite, optometrist can tell you if this is the cause. Read add page 5. 2616

A Wild West Girl Abroad

By DELIA BREWERTON

Helen Gorton was a ranch girl. She was born on her father's ranch and lived on it till she was fourteen years of age, then was sent east to school. She was no great student, not because it was hard for her to learn, but because she was pining for the wild life of the west.

At eighteen she returned to her home and resumed her former habits. She was an excellent shot and rider and could stand any amount of exposure. By a campfire under a tree she slept more comfortably than in a bed.

Helen was obstinate. When she was twenty and announced to her father that she was going to Europe to visit those countries of which she had heard so much he knew that it would be useless to attempt to stop her.

When Helen departed she was escorted to a railroad station some twenty miles distant from her home by a dozen or more cowboys, each one of whom would have attacked a regiment of wildcats to win a smile from her. When the train moved off they were drawn up in line beside the track on horseback and fired a salute from their revolvers, which she returned from one she carried slung to her waist under the skirt of her dress.

Helen first saw the old world in the Pillars of Hercules, two mountains, one on either side of the strait of Gibraltar, and landed not many miles from the base of Vesuvius. When a month had passed she had not yet left Naples. She made acquaintances rapidly, but so unconventional were her ways in that land of conventionality for women that members of her own sex, even though they understood her and looked upon her as being a thoroughly good girl, did not dare countenance her.

This troubled her. Why it was that innumerable men were markedly attentive to her and few women seemed to care to be intimate with her she could not understand. One elderly American lady who realized her innocence endeavored to caution her by telling her that in a land full of criminals it was not safe to go about alone. Helen did not know what fear was and, misunderstanding the purport of the caution, continued to go about without a chaperon.

But one day her eyes were opened very suddenly and very wide. While visiting Pompeii with a party she overheard an Italian prince make disparaging remarks about "that American girl," it being plain that he referred to her. She was not only wounded in spirit, but indignant, the former feeling giving place to the latter. She had once confronted a grizzly bear, which, for reasons best known to itself, retreated on sight, but had been brought down by a ball from her rifle. She did not regard Prince Leonardo di Giuda as formidable as the grizzly, and she was not sufficiently versed in foreign ways to know that it was not considered a lady's part to protect her good name by a man's methods.

Helen concealed the fact that she had overheard the slurring remark and finished her visit to Pompeii without any one knowing that she was hot with indignation. On the way back to Naples she asked one of the gentlemen of the party, an Italian, what he would do to a man who had spoken contemptuously of a woman he loved and respected. He replied that he would call the man out under the code duello.

The next morning Di Giuda received a note written in a feminine hand and signed "H. G.," asking him to meet her in a certain retired spot that she named on the outskirts of Naples that night at 11 o'clock. Without the signed initials Di Giuda would have looked upon the note as a trap to enable some one to rob him. He was not sure the note was genuine; but, with his opinion of Helen Gorton, he thought it very probable it was. He decided to grant the interview.

At the hour named, well armed to guard against treachery, he drove up in a carriage to the appointed place and, alighting, walked into a field dimly lighted. No one was near, and, realizing the character of many of the lower grade of people of Naples, he kept his hand on his revolver. Suddenly a figure stepped out from behind a bush and, throwing back a cloak, revealed a woman.

"Signorina Gorton?" exclaimed De Giuda.

"I am."

"I assure you I feel highly honored at your request to meet you. What can I do for you?"

"Sign this paper."

She handed him a paper and produced a light from under her cloak by which he read it. It was an acknowledgment that he was beneath contempt to have attacked a woman's reputation without cause.

"I will not sign that," he said. "Very well," replied Helen, stepping from him some ten paces; "you may draw. I will not shoot you down like a dog."

The man attempted to argue, but a bullet grazing his cheek admonished him that the case was serious. He would gain nothing by fighting a woman. He chose the lesser of two evils—he signed.

What use Helen made of the paper is not known, but there was a sudden revulsion in her favor. She was thereafter accepted by her own sex and courted by men. When she returned to America she married a ranchman.

HARTFORD CITY MAN ESCAPES THE KNIFE

Charles Inman Able to Go to Work After Operation Was Avoided.

Charles Inman, 424 East Chestnut street, Hartford City, Ind., was desperately ill with stomach trouble. He was advised to go to Fort Wayne for an operation.

Then he took Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and in a short time was able to go back to work. In a letter he said:

"My disease started seven years ago. I had to give up and go to bed. Four doctors said they could not cure me unless I went to Fort Wayne to be operated on, and that it would cost $150 or $200. My daughter saw your advertisement and I took your treatment. In three weeks I went to work and haven't missed but one-half day since from sickness. It surely saved my life."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

REPRESENTATIVES PRESENT

At a meeting of the Knights of Columbus held in this city last evening it was decided to hold a joint initiation in this city on May 9. The initiation will be from four Councils, of Shelbyville, Connersville, Greensburg and this city. At the meeting last evening representatives from Shelbyville and Connersville were here and the arrangements were about completed.

Those from Shelbyville that attended were: Charles Debanto, Charles Campbell, Edwin Seller, R. A. Sollers, Lawrence Sollers, Carl Webben, Sam Hendrickson, Lawrence Rehme and John Gobel. Thomas Ford, Edward Hovey and Pete Morris represented Connersville. The meeting here in May will attract a large number of people and a large class will be initiated.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Well-known local druggist says every body is using old-time recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

.... Dress Fabrics of Every Kind....

Spring styles are settled. Women have seen and admired the modes—many garments are being planned. The question you ask is,

WHERE SHALL I PURCHASE?

It must be a source of pleasure and satisfaction for women to know that they can find here in one place—under the rays of clear daylight—most of the favored weaves and colors in silks, dress goods and wash goods. It must be an additional satisfaction to know that it is impossible to select from these vast stocks a yard of unreliable goods, and lastly it must be good to know that because of our policy of moderate pricing, the utmost value is obtained. Among the choicest woolen weaves are gaberdine, poplin, whipcord, satin prunella, French serge and men's wear serge.

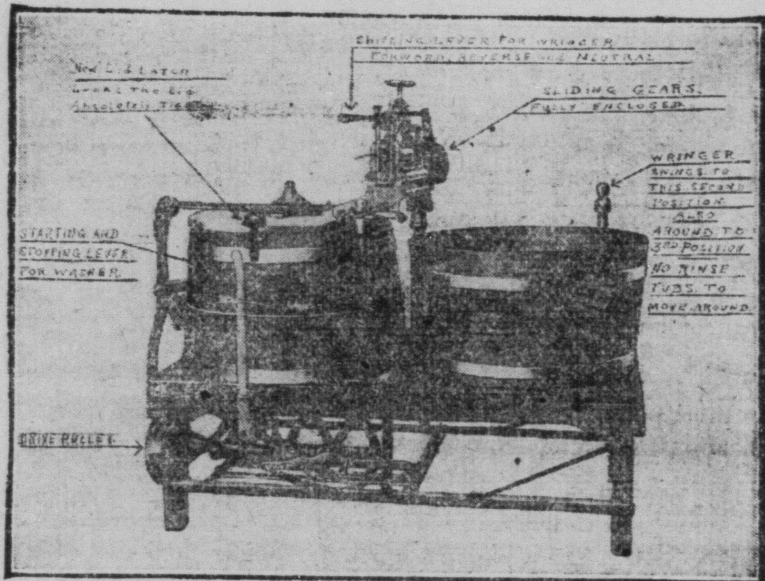

¶ The favored silks are Cascadeaux, Pussy willow taffeta, crinkle crepe, crepe meteor, printed warp foulards, charmeuse, messaline and poplin.
¶ Supplemented with an up-to-the-minute Ladies' Home Journal pattern, any of the above fabrics will make you an unexcelled costume.

CLAIMS ILLEGAL AFTER TEN DAYS

Requirements of Law Concerning Requests for Payment for Stock Killed by Dogs

INSTRUCTIONS TO TRUSTEES

Notified That Claims Must be Actually Filed Within Time Provided in the Act

Strict compliance with the law by farmers who file claims with the township trustee for the value of stock or fowls killed or maimed by dogs is required by the state board of accounts and a recent letter that has been sent out is of interest to every farmer in Rush county. The law of 1897 provides that such claims shall be filed within ten days after such stock or fowls are killed or injured. Trustees are notified that claims filed after the expiration of the ten days' period are not legal and must be rejected. It is also stated in the letter from the state board of accounts that the claims must be actually filed under oath within that time and that notification over the telephone or by the letter will not suffice.

There has been some dispute as to when the ten days' period started but the state board of accounts clears this up by stating that it begins when the stock or fowl was injured or killed. If stock is attacked and lives for several days the owner must file within ten days after the animal was injured. Each claim must be accompanied by an affidavit of the claimant and also two freehold witnesses. The money with which the claims are paid is taken from a fund created by the dog license law. The claim is based upon the actual market value of the stock.

Another interesting feature of the letter is that a claim cannot be filed for the death of stock resulting from hydrophobia as it does not develop in less than fourteen days. By that time, it is pointed out, the time for filing the claim would have expired.

The letter is as follows:

"To All Township Trustees:—

"This department begs to submit the following on the matter of paying claims from the dog fund as provided by sections 3269 and 3270, Burns' R. S., 1914:

"1. Claims against this fund must show that the stock was killed, maimed or damaged by a dog or dogs and must be sworn to by the owner and by two disinterested and reputable freeholders.

"2. The claim must state the number, age and the actual cash value of the stock that is injured or killed, and the amount of damage sustained.

"3. The claim must be filed with the trustee within ten (10) days from the time when the injury was done. The ten-day period does not begin with the death of the animal but with the day when the dog bites or injures the animal.

"It is practically impossible to establish a legal claim against the fund for the loss of an animal by hydrophobia after the animal dies. Hydrophobia never develops within less than fourteen (14) days after the bite of the rabid animal. The death occurs some days later. It cannot be known that the animal is infected with the disease germs until hydrophobia develops.

"4. An animal may be infected with hydrophobia by animals other than dogs. To establish the claim, it must be proven that the animal was infected by a dog.

"5. No claim can be paid for injury to stock done by a dog owned or harbored by the owner of the stock.

"6. Trustees should guard this fund carefully. They should require the statute to be strictly complied with, and pay no doubtful claims.

"This department will carefully scrutinize all claims paid from this fund."

MASONIC MEETING.

Phoenix Lodge, No. 62 F. & A. M. will hold their regular stated meeting tonight at 7:30. A large attendance is urged.

SIMPLE WAY TO END DANDRUFF

Stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.

Lion At Large

Headed Toward Rushville.

It is rumored that a lion has played traitor with its Master in Wallace Hagenbeck's Camp at Peru and has decided to leave Camp before the Circus starts on its Spring Tour.

For the past week he has had the neighboring country all around carrying guns on the "Lookout for Mr. Lion."

Owing to the fact that the hoof and mouth disease have disqualified all circuses from leaving the state, this Lion if not captured soon may be the only animal allowed to go beyond our state boundary.

SAME FIRM GETS OIL CONTRACT

Indiana Road Preserving Company of
This City Awarded Job Because
it is Low Bidder.

WERE FOUR OTHERS AFTER IT

Contract Price is $1.35 Per Hundred
Square Yards Cheaper Than it
Was Last Year.

The Indiana Road Preserving Company was awarded the oiling contract by the city council at the special meeting last night. The bid of this firm was 24 cents a square yard, and as it was the lowest of the five received, it was accepted by the council.

The contract price figures at three and three-quarters cents a lineal foot on a thirty-six foot street. The price is lower than last year. This is the same company that did the work last year. Their bid last year was 3 and 80/100 cents a square yard which made it 5.1 cents a lineal foot. From this it will be seen that on a thirty-six foot street the price for the oiling this year is 1 and 35/100 cents cheaper than last year.

The Indiana Road Preserving Company plans to start the work as soon as the weather permits. The contract was signed last night and the bond placed at $3,000. It is estimated that the contractor this year will receive $2,500 less than last year because of the low price and because several of the streets that were oiled last year were not included in the improvement resolution this year. The council was well satisfied with the contract price.

The Southern Asphaltolene Road Company of Louisville, Ky., was the next low bidder. This firm offered to do the work for 2 and 85/100 cents a square yard. A. R. Herkless of this city bid 2 and 99/100 cents a square yard. These were the only bids below three cents a square yard.

Williams and House of Franklin submitted a bid of three cents a square yard. The fifth bidder was Wilk and Co., of this city, with a bid of 3 and 21/100 cents a square yard.

The council also contracted for a sprinkler last night. Propositions were submitted by two firms and the wagon was bought from the American Good Roads Machine company of Ohio. The price was $300 F. O. B. Rushville. The Studebaker people offered a wagon for $312. The ordinance appropriating money for the purchase of the sprinkler was passed at the last meeting of the council.

MARRIED SOME TIME AGO

and N. E. Grady Announced.

It was admitted today that Miss Helen Williamson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williamson, 311 West First street, and N. E. Grady, a telegraph operator at the Pennsylvania railroad station, had been married for some time. Mrs. Grady refused to state when or where the marriage took place, but declared that it was "near the first of the year." The marriage license was not issued here. At least the marriage license records in the clerk's office in the court house do not show it.

DEATH MRS. W. E. SMITH BIG SHOCK

Wide Circle of Friends and Relatives
Lament Unexpected Demise of Young Married Woman.

SHE WAS SICK JUST ONE WEEK

Ptomaine Develops Into Peritonitis
Which Causes Death—Funeral
Wednesday Afternoon.

Mrs. Edith B. Smith, 27 years old, wife of Walter E. Smith, died last night at ten o'clock at their home in North Jackson street, after an illness of one week. The death of Mrs. Smith came as a great shock to a wide circle of friends and relatives. One week ago yesterday Mrs. Smith was taken ill with ptomaine poisoning and peritonitis developed. She gradually grew weaker and the end came last night at ten o'clock. Her death had not been expected and for this reason the shock was all the more severe.

Mrs. Smith was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McMillin, of near Gings. She was born July 12, 1887. Besides her husband and parents, Mrs. Smith is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Ruby Logan and Mrs. Nellie Logan.

The funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at the Main street Christian church by the Rev. C. M. Yocum, assisted by the Rev. L. E. Murray, of Richmond. The cortege will leave the residence at two o'clock. Friends may call tonight and Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Smith was prominently identified with a number of women's clubs and with the Main Street Christian church. She was very popular and well liked and took a very active interest in club and church work.

SEES EARLY NEED OF SPANISH TONGUE

Dr. R. L. Snyder Back From South,
Says it Should be Taught in Public Schools Now.

USED IN NEW TRADE CHANNEL

Dr. Leonard W. Snyder, known as the Boys' Minister throughout the United States, who, together with Lawrence Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Payne, has returned from a trip through the south, said today that the thing that he deemed of much importance for the schools to take up just now was the study of Spanish. He explains that because the South American trade which is coming to the United States because of the European war, Spanish will be a much-used language in the business of the nation, and that it is the duty of the schools to equip the children today to conduct the business of tomorrow. Dr. Snyder says that Spanish has been introduced in the schools of the south for the reasons he assigns and believes that it would be the proper thing for the schools of the north. Dr. Snyder will leave in the morning for points in Missouri, and after a week's travel, will go east again.

ELKS BANQUET POSTPONED.

The Elks reception and banquet which was to have been given at the club rooms Thursday evening was postponed today until some time next week on account of the death of Mrs. Walter E. Smith.

HONOR ROLL IS PRINTED TODAY

Keen Competition Aroused Over
Spelling Contest Being Conducted
in City Schools.

BIG IMPROVEMENT NOTED

Prize is For Name of Every Pupil
Receiving Perfect Grade to Appear
in Rushville Papers.

Because of the keen competition that has been aroused in the Rushville public schools through the contest arranged by Superintendent J. H. Scholl, a great improvement in spelling has already been noted. Today, for the first time, the names of those who received a hundred percent in spelling are published. The winning pupils are looking forward with some anticipation to see their names on the honor roll.

The contest is for the pupils of the fourth to the eighth grades inclusive. It was announced last week. The children were told that all those who were perfect in spelling every Friday for three weeks would get into the honor roll, which would be published in the Rushville newspapers. While the averages were fine, Superintendent Scholl said today many pupils who missed one word deserves commendation. The honor roll follows:

The chickens, brooder and incubator were the property of Mr. Drake.

ARE DRIVING FRENCH OUT, BERLIN CLAIMS

Germans Are Steadily Closing in
on Enemy in La Pretrie Forest
Near Pont-A-Mousson.

FEEBLE OFFENSIVE TRIALS

(By United Press.)

Berlin, (By Wireless to London), April 13.—The French are slowly being driven out of La Pretrie forest northwest of Pont-A-Mousson. The Kaiser's troops, according to an official announcement today from the war office, are steadily closing in on the narrow stretch of woodland still held by the enemy. Fierce fighting is going on in this region both day and night. The French have made a few feeble attacks, particularly east of Verdun. All these have been repulsed.

In Alsace, swollen mountain streams that hindered the fighting are slowly receding and the French have made several attempts at an offensive. The situation on the eastern battle front remains unchanged.

FIFTEEN DAYS TO FILE EXEMPTIONS

County Auditor's Office Calls Attention
of Taxpayers to Approach
of End of Season.

TO EXEMPT YOUR MORTGAGES

Warning has been sent out by the county auditor's office that only fifteen days remain in which to file mortgage exemptions. The exemptions have not been coming in as rapidly this year as last and the officials in the office fear a grand rush towards the end of the period.

It is necessary for the exemptions to be sworn to before a notary or a justice of peace. Any notary or a justice can properly make out the exemptions. Several have been filed with the auditor and with but fifteen days remaining the exemptions should come in fast from now until the close of the period.

A BIT BUSY FOR A TOURIST

Huerta, Arrived in New York, Studies Mexican Question.

(By United Press.)

New York, April 13.—For a professional, casual tourist enjoying himself by traveling, Victoriano Huerta, former dictator of Mexico, was exceedingly busy today studying the Mexican situation. This, at least, was the declaration of Abraham Retner, his business associate and a member of the Huerta party.

PROBABLY WILL NOT GET BONDS

Likely Mayor Roberts and Other
Convicted Terre Haute Men Will
Have to go to Leavenworth.

UNLESS TAGGART HELPS THEM

He Indemnified Roberts' Bond When
The Mayor Was Indicted—
Five Men Return to Homes.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 13.—An even hundred Terre Haute conspirators were in jail here today, occupying cells in the "Federal Row." Among them was Mayor Dom M. Roberts, who drew a sentence of six years in Leavenworth prison and a fine of $2,000. Roberts occupied a cell next to Vernie Lewis the Terre Haute latrine murderer who killed a mother and her three children recently and was brought here to escape mob vengeance.

There seems little likelihood that Roberts and other convicted men could provide bonds unless assisted by Thomas Taggart who indemnified Roberts' $10,000 bond when he was indicted. L. C. Breunig, representing the National Surety company which was indemnified by the national committeemen, said today it would be extremely difficult to provide bonds because someone would have to make a deposit to cover a portion of the costs of the present trial, the cost of the trial in the court of appeals in Chicago and in Roberts' case, the fine of $2,000. He said the one who indemnified the bonds must make this deposit with the surety company.

Roberts was not as fore-handed this time as previously and today when he was served bread, molasses and black coffee, he did not produce a lump of sugar.

George Kintz, sentenced to serve three months in jail, was admitted to jail today. When he tried to get in last night the jailer refused to admit him because he did not have proper papers. He was forced to pay additional hotel bill as a result.

Maurice Walsh who obtained a $1,500 campaign contribution from Crawford Fairbanks, the millionaire brewer and Democratic state leader, today told Judge Anderson he would not appeal. The court then allowed Walsh his freedom until Sunday on Walsh's promise that he would leave Terre Haute for Leavenworth Sunday. This is the fifth man Judge Anderson has allowed to

Spring and Sports!

Through the opened windows of the office comes the soft languid air of cheerful Spring, herald of lovely Summer.

Indeed the atmosphere is pregnant with unrest.

It is Mother Earth wooing us to come out and meet her at close range.

Suddenly I remember my golf sticks; my secretary makes a memorandum to get out her tennis racket, and my office-boy has, I notice, his baseball and bat hidden behind his desk.

This is a good time to look over; purchase or repair the golf stick, tennis racket, saddle, etc., and in the advertising columns of The Daily Republican will be found from day to day the announcements of sporting goods houses which carry a fine supply of articles of this character.

GRAIN MARKET IS EASIER

Wheat, Corn and Oats Show Only Slight Losses Today.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, April 13.—The grain market was a little easier today, although there was little change in prices. May wheat was quoted at $1.56½, closing five-eighths of a cent off. July wheat was down one-half cent and September one-quarter, the former closing at $1.23½ and the latter at $1.10½. May corn declined seven-eighths of a cent, closing at 72½ cents, and July corn closed at 75½, a loss of a half cent. September corn options were down a like amount. May oats was off seven-eighths of a cent and July and September one-eighth.

Glenwood.

The B. A. A. club held its first meeting with Miss Wanda Fielding last Wednesday afternoon at her home southeast of Glenwood. A very pleasant afternoon was spent crocheting. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Edna Ruff.

J. F. Mapes attended an executive meeting of the P. O. S. of A. at Crawfordsville one evening last week.

Many in Glenwood have completed the spring task of cleaning house.

Frank Murphy is unable to work because of an injury suffered to one of his legs. Herman Hinchman is working for him.

A large number of farmers in this locality have their spring plowing finished.

Communion services were held at the United Presbyterian church Sabbath afternoon.

Oliver Mingle transacted business at Connersville one afternoon last week.

Gardening is the order of the day here just now.

Dr. Leonidas Mingle is slowly recovering from an attack of the grippe. The improvement is not fast enough to suit him, however.

Harry T. Mahin will teach in the Arlington schools next year. His friends wish him success.

Chase Bussell who has been teaching here, will attend school next year. He is a faithful and untiring worker in the school room.

The Glenwood streets are to be oiled the first of May.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Chew were in Jennings county last week looking at a farm which was offered for trade. He may trade his business interests here for the piece of land. The name of the owner of the farm is Johnson. He has been in business before and would like to try it again.

Dr. Osborne will probably make some improvements on his property this summer.

The Odd Fellows of Dunreith will give a show in the town hall, or Mingle's hall, next Saturday night. A small admission will be charged.

Emery Weston and Robert Ludington spent the week end with home folks at Connersville.

William T. Smith transacted business in Glenwood one evening last week.

Orlando Nichols is doing some repair work on his engine.

The Rev. Daniel Ryan delivered a very powerful sermon at the M. E. church Sunday, speaking on the subject, "Christ on the Throne." He said there was talk about the second coming of Christ, which he did not understand, for as soon as He came a second time, that ended the probationary period with us. The pastor declared none knows the time nor the hour, but in the twinkling of an eye the trumpet shall sound. The choir will render "The Holy City" next Sunday morning at the regular services at 10:30. All are invited.

SOAP IS BAD FOR THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.
The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and gettier than soap or anything else you can use.
One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

HOOSIER HISTORY.

(Prepared by the United Press from records in the State Library.)

Some Hoosiers who gave a good account of themselves in the Mexican war were Lewis Wallace the well known author; General Joseph Lane, brigade commander; Governor Jas.
 Whitcomb, Adjutant General; David
 Reynolds and Captains R. H. Milroy, Nathan Kimball and W. A. Gorman.
 These three captains became generals during the Civil War and Wallace proved a valuable manduring the later war.

The five regiments forced for service in the Mexican war were the first soldiers of Indiana to be regularly organized and serve in war.
 Their record was honorable.

DISCUSSION TO BE HELD HERE FRIDAY

Three Contestants in Meeting of Sixth District League at Graham School Building.

RUSHVILLE IS NOT IN IT

The second annual contest of the Sixth District High School Discussion League, will be held here at the Graham high school building assembly room next Friday evening at seven-thirty o'clock. Rushville will not have a contestant this year because of so many other matters requiring the attention of the pupils.
 Only three cities will be represented.
 Leroy Brown of Richmond, Bryan G.
 Wilson of Newcastle and Theodore
 Miller of Charlottesville will speak.
 The contest was held here last year and it was won by Richmond. Vernal Casady represented Rushville last year.

The subject for discussion is:
 "How may we secure greater administrative and economic efficiency in the county government of Indiana?"
 Indiana University has promoted these discussion contests, this being the second year of such work. The object is to furnish a means and an encouragement for an interest in the discussion of subjects of governmental interest.

An admission fee of ten cents will be charged to pay local expenses.
 The meeting should attract a large audience.

AMERICAN LINER ASHORE

 be in no great danger.

Who Can Doubt Sworn Testimony of Honest Citizens?

Some time ago I began the use of your Swamp-Root with the most remarkable results.
 For years I was almost a wreck and was a great sufferer. I was so bad at times I would faint away and had sinking spells. Finally a new doctor was called in and he said that I had kidney trouble and gave me medicine, of which I took several bottles. I obtained some relief from this but I was getting weaker all the time. I could not sleep and suffered so much pain that my husband and children had to lift me in and out of bed. After this time two friends sent me word to try Swamp-Root.
 I did, and I am glad to state that the first dose gave me great relief. After taking the third dose I was helped into bed and slept half of the night.

I took several bottles of Swamp-Root and I feel that I owe my life to this wonderful remedy. The two family doctors said that I could not live three months. I would have to be helped in and out of bed ten to twenty times every night. After taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root for two days I was entirely free from getting up and could sleep soundly.

MRS. D. E. HILEMAN.

Personally appeared before me, this 11th of September, 1909, Mrs. D. E. Hileman, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

OUTSIDE HELP IS NOT NEEDED

Muncie Believes People Are Capable of Cleaning City's Skirts as as Shown in Indictments

IS NOT ANOTHER TERRE HAUTE

Should Mayor Bunch be Found Guilty He Would Automatically be Removed From Office.

(By United Press.)

Muncie, Ind., April 13.—Muncie is not another Terre Haute, despite the fact that the Delaware county grand jury has returned over 100 indictments, naming among others the mayor, chief of police, president of the board of police commissioners and the deputy prosecuting attorney.
 This is the assertion of local men who point out what they say are essential differences between the Muncie and the Terre Haute situations.

"That the people can run their own affairs and clean the city's skirts without outside help is elo-quently indicated by present investigations," said Geo. Lockwood, editor and publisher of the Muncie Press.
 "There is no charge in Muncie that the entire official system is corrupt.
 There is not the breath of suspicion against the courts, and it is still as easy to get justice in Muncie as in any other city in the country. The present administration has been in power in Muncie but little over a year and already charges of corruption have been met with rigid investigation."

Lockwood pointed out that in Terre Haute "the citizens have been boss ridden for years and the county and city form one machine, where open minded grand juries are unknown quantities." The present procedure whereby Muncie intends to purge itself would be impossible in Terre Haute. He said Muncie would not need to call on the federal government for help.

"It must not be supposed from this that we presume the indicted men are guilty," he said. "They should be tried in the courts; not in the newspapers."

Mayor Rollin H. Bunch, Chief of Police William McVaine and Herbert S. Maddy, president of the board of police commissioners, were arrested April 1 charged with demanding and accepting bribes. C.
 Roy Hathaway real estate dealer and promoter, was arrested charged with counselling, inciting and procuring bribes. Deputy Prosecutor Gene Williams, who was out of town, faced the same charge as the first three.
 All gave $2,000 bond and were released.

According to the indictment, Mc-Vaine, Maddy and Bunch on Nov.
 20, 1914, and on each of the six successive weeks received from Elmer Schell, then owner of the Club cigar store, the sum of $15. The purpose of the bribes, it is alleged, was to protect Schell in the illicit operation of a "blind tiger," and the operation of various gaming devices in his cigar store.

Should Mayor Bunch be found guilty, he would automatically be removed from office, for among the indictments is one charging malfeasance in office. It practically amounts to a charge of conspiring to permit
 all forms of law violations to continue in Muncie.

"The more charges they return
 the merrier," said Mayor Bunch.

Drama of Pennsylvania Anthracite Coal Tax is Slowly but Expensively Enacted

AT RATE OF 25 CENTS A TON

Law Was Aimed to Protect State
 From Outsiders—Eighteen Million a Year

(By United Press.)

Harrisburg, Pa., Apr. 13.—While the ultimate consumer merrily pays twenty-five cents a ton extra for his hard coal, the drama of the Pennsylvania anthracite coal tax law is slowly but expensively being enacted in the Keystone State. The action has been developing for over a year and a half, the coal companies are $18,000,000 richer than when the curtain went up, and the show is not half over, experts claim.

The entire situation grew out of a desire of conservationists and others to give Pennsylvania ample doses of gold dollars to offset the pain of seeing one of her principal natural resources, anthracite coal—carried off to other states, to keep their enterprises going, while this state got only the price of the coal and a residue of mother earth "good for nothing after the coal was taken out." So in 1913 a law was enacted putting a tax of 2 1/2 percent of the value of hard coal at the mines. This was a levy of ten cents a ton. Half of the tax so collected was to be returned to the counties wherein the coal was mined. Experts claim that 80 per cent. of anthracite mined in Pennsylvania is shipped into other states.

It was figured by the Auditor General that the statute would bring in between four and five million of dollars revenue a year. The measure was effective July 1, 1913 and state officials figured that $2,300,000 was owing to the state Jan. 1, 1914. The coal companies immediately instituted a test suit against the constitutionality of the act, claiming it was invalid because it was special legislation, soft coal being exempted from the provision of the law. After about $20,000 has been paid into the state treasury by the coal operators they decided to discontinue further payments until the constitutionality of the act was settled.

However, the coal operators have been collecting the tax assiduously.
 According to experts, the companies have been levying twenty-five cents a ton extra on anthracite in order to "defray the additional cost of meeting the statute's provisions." At the present time over $7,000,000 is due the state, while $18,000,000 have been added to the nation's fuel bill,
 according to experts.

To make the drama more interesting, while the Dauphin county court is considering the appeal case,
 the coal companies are endeavoring to have the statute repealed. Should the statute be repealed, another measure covering the constitutional objection in the present law, will be immediately submitted. If Dauphin county court decides against the operators, an appeal will be taken to the state supreme court.

WAS SURPRISE TO HAMILTON

Defeat of Fast Rushville Team Was Not Expected by Fans of That City Sunday.

TEAM LET DOWN WITH 3 HITS

Lefty Fox Forced in First Run by Base on Balls—Lone Marker Made in Fourth Round.

The defeat of the Rushville team Sunday by Hamilton came as a surprise to the Hamilton fans as they did not believe their team was fast enough to turn the trick. The following from the Hamilton Republican—News will be of interest to the fans here:

Few of the three hundred fans who went to League Park Sunday to see the first Sunday game of the season had any idea that the local team would beat the strong Rushville nine, but the bugs went home happily disappointed.

Rushville's team was composed of some of the strongest semi-pro talent that can be obtained in Cincinnati, while the Champion Hamiltons are still more or less of an experiment.

Undismayed by the strong line-up of the Rushville team the Hamilton boys played some real baseball, and at the end of the afternoon were on the long end of a 3 to 1 score. Danerbaner's pitching was the outstanding feature. He had such famous sluggers as Sandman Badel and others rolling weak grounders to the infielders and though in danger several times pitched himself out of holes with skill and courage.

His support was steady, and at times sensational. Rushville being held to three hits.

Hamilton scored first in the third when with three on base. Fox walked Tanager forcing in a run. Another was added in the fourth on singles by O'Dell and Cash and a pass to Hetterich. Hamilton's final run in the fifth was made on a hit and two errors.

Rushville scored their lone marker in the fourth round when Cordes, singled went to third on a wild heave by Einsfield and scored on Schenker's single. After the fifth inning neither team scored.

ORGANIZED BALL OPENS TOMORROW

Everything is Set for Big Blow off in Both American and National Leagues

STOVE LEAGUE CURTAIN DOWN

BY HAL SHERIDAN

New York, Apr. 13.—"Gletcher ticket" is the fans' question today, straining at the tape for the big blow off of the 1915 baseball season tomorrow of Organized Baseball. The National and American Leagues' premier is scheduled tomorrow and in metropolis of east and west the rush for the coveted pasteboards is on today.

In the American League, at Philadelphia, Washington, St. Louis, and Detroit the curtain raisers will be held. To avoid conflicts under the "gentlemen's agreement" against competition the National League will open at Boston, New York, Cincinnati and Chicago.

For one day at least the Feds will step into the baseball background while their rivals hold the center of the stage for their 1915 premier.

From all parts of the big leagues circuit today some pennant prognostications of the managers and announcements of opening batteries. Anyway today rings down the curtain on the "Stove League."

COUNTRY CLUB NOT TO BE ABANDONED

Members Decide to Make Repairs at Once and Prepare For Another Season at Grounds.

IDEAL PLACE FOR SUPPERS

Members of the Rushville Country club decided last night not to abandon the club grounds east of the city, although it had been generally understood after the annual meeting last Tuesday night that the grounds and a club house would be given up.

Work will be started immediately preparing the tennis courts for play and fixing up the grounds.

Following the annual meeting a committee was appointed to see if tennis courts could be located in Rushville. It was thought then it would be best to abandon the club grounds because every winter vandals destroy the club's property.

Last night, however, members of the club decided that the present location was much better than any which could be found because, although it is outside of the corporation limits, it is not so far that it is inconvenient to get to it. The place is ideal for picnic parties and country suppers. It is a favorite place when the weather gets warm. The automatic trap will be returned and trap shooting will cease to be a feature of the club's activities.

Rheumatism In Ankles

One bottle of Rheuma Relieved Woman Who Could Not Walk

Marvelous as this story may seem, it is absolutely true; but this is only one of the many almost magical cures that Rheuma is performing these days. Use of one bottle will convince any sufferer.

Mrs. Gertrude Kozel, Smithfield, Pa., writes: "I had rheumatism for over a year; it settled in my ankles and I could not walk. I have taken one bottle of Rheuma and do not have any more pain, and I can again walk at will."

F. B. Johnson and all druggists sell Rheuma for 50 cents. It is guaranteed to cure any case of any kind of rheumatism or money back. Gratifying relief comes in a day, because Rheuma acts at one time on the kidneys, stomach, liver and blood and starts to rid the entire system of poisonous uric acid at once.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or Bladder troubles you—Salts is
fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poisons, else you feel a cull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.
To neutralize these irritating acids
and flush out the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation.
Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithiawater drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

DENVER MELANGE, No. 2

Another "Potpourri" of Divers Peculiarities
Observed in Denver.

[By J. Feudner.]

Under the heading of "A Denver Melange, or a Potpourri of Out-of-the-Ordinaries," which appeared in the Daily Republican last July, I mentioned some of the things observed here in Denver which are characteristic of the city. I now have a few more observations to add to the former list.

Recently I saw the strange spectacle of the city sprinkler springing the street to lay the dust, while on the south side of the street (on the north side of the buildings) lay a two-foot bank of snow and ice. At another place, where there was a gas pipe railing, a streak of snow about the same thickness as the gas pipe. At another place a woman was in the habit of hanging up daily washings. In the shade of this washing the snow and ice remained long after it had disappeared elsewhere. In Colorado it is always cool in the shade, and long after the ice and snow has melted where the sun strikes, it remains in the shade.

The system of delivering goods
here by the merchants is somewhat different from what I have seen elsewhere. Boys on bicycles are employed to a great extent. They are provided with a double canvas sack with a hole between the receptacles through which they slip their head.
Part of the load rests on their backs
and the other part on their breasts.
They can constantly be seen throughout the city, sometimes carrying tremendous loads. Of course automobiles and other delivery wagons are also used, but the boy on the wheel is a feature.

The Greek shoe shiners, who have invaded the field all over the United States, are threatened with serious competition. Here in Denver a "Ladies' Shoe Shining Parlor" has been opened where good-looking girls
do the shining for 5 cents. "Madge's Shoe Shining Parlor" reads the sign over the establishment, and "Have your shined by the girls" reads their advertisement.

Since living in Denver, I have often seen couples walking through the business streets "holding hands." Not alone young couples, but old couples as well. If this custom of "holding hands" and walking through the streets is in vogue in other cities where I have been, I must have been blind—I never saw it until I came to Denver.

The practice of making "short cuts" across lots and across the intersections of streets, is quite noticeable here. Denver has a great many vacant lots which grow a profusion of Russian thistles during the summer. Most of these lots have a path diagonally across them to make a short cut. Most cities have traffic regulations which require that pedestrians cross the street squarely around the corner. But not so in Denver. Cutting diagonally across the intersection is quite common.

The moving of household goods in immense vans is quite a business in Denver, and several large concerns make it their business to move, store or ship household goods. This is because Denver is a tourist town and a health resort with a large transient population. On this account there is a great deal of moving in and out, and the storing of goods
is also quite an extensive business.
Each company in this business has large storage warehouses. The moving vans are usually drawn by three heavy draft horses abreast, but one company now has a three-wheeled heavy auto truck, under the van in place of the front wheels.

The newspaper vendors in Denver are of all classes and sizes—from the small boy to the strong and husky young man and the old men and cripples. Besides these, young girls, middle-aged and old women regularly stand on the street corners selling papers. Denver has two leading papers—the Post (afternoon paper) and the News (morning paper) which publishes an afternoon edition under the name of The Times. The price of each paper is two cents. But the same news venders handle papers on the streets and sell the two "for a nickel." (One cent extra profit.)
I never before saw a man's business advertised on his tombstone until I visited "Fairmount" cemetery, near Denver, last week. On the main business street in Denver (16th street) is located the "Pell Fish and Oyster House," and on the Pell cemetery lot stands a shaft 8 feet high with the name "Pell" in large letters and underneath two big fish carved in relief.

While Denver may be a little different from most other cities, in the main it has some things common with all American cities. It has its periodical "moral spasms." A "spasm" started two or three weeks ago, and it may be only a preliminary political move on the part of the police department before the spring election, which takes place next month. Denver has a commission form of government.

By the way, I have mentioned in some of my former articles that Denver (and Colorado, too) was over-reformed. Denver is now threatened with a petition to adopt an amendment to introduce the Henry George single tax system of taxation. A recent editorial in one of Denver's papers, under the heading
"Deliver us from professional reformers," says: "A coterie of professional reformers that has been using Denver as an experiment station for a number of years is out again in its spring attire for more amendments to a very much amended city charter, including a single-tax provision"

The other day after the German cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich was interned, the paper had this editorial:
"If our professional reforming friends in Denver are wise, they will follow the example of the German captain and go under cover, remove their sirens and their foghorns and keep quiet to save going into the port of missing politicians. The people are not in a mood this year for foolishness. Next month they will be busy receiving and entertaining hosts of travelers from the East.
The less agitation the better. Denver has had its fill of experiments;
it wants time to attend to business.
Single taxes, reactionaries, visionaries, agitators, please take notice!"

Business men, real estate men, taxpayers and others are organizing against the single tax movement.
The people are about getting tired of being reformed.

I noticed in a recent issue of the Daily Republican that a young lady from near Rushville came to Denver to get married, and that the groom had a farm near Ault, Colorado. The latter is a mistake. There is no such thing as a "farm" in Colorado. They are called "ranches!"
These "ranches" are in size from one acre to 5000 acres or even the size of a whole township. Whenever I hear people talking about "ranches" it sounds to me like a joke.
When you see a ranch owner you are not sure whether he is a prince or a pauper. A 5000 acre ranch owner may not be as well off as a Rush county farmer with 80 acres of land.

And this reminds me of the weather. The Colorado boosters claim 305 days of sunshine during the year. But last year it rained so much in Colorado that the "dry" farmer had a record crop. The fact is, the "dry" farmer in Colorado had as much rain, if not more, than the "wet" farmer in Indiana last year.
This spring it is starting out with a great many cloudy days and considerable rain. The Colorado people reluctantly admit that their climate has changed, and that there is a much heavier rainfall than years ago.

A few weeks ago I stated in one of my articles that a clergyman in Denver was so strongly English that he sent his wife to England whenever a visit from the stork was expected, so that even his children might be born English subjects. Two weeks ago the Denver Chamber of Commerce (who advocate "Patronize Home Industry") sent this clergyman a letter praising Colorado and Denver made goods; and the letter contained the following paragraph:
"You stand in the eyes of many people of Denver as the chief exponent here of the old custom of buying their supplies away from home. In fact, it has been said this custom with you extends beyond the borders of the United States and that even the maid who serves at your table is imported from England."

To this charge that he bought his goods in England, the clergyman impudently answered through the papers:

"I buy everything I need in Denver except my clerical clothes (he wears no others.) These I buy from a tailor in London, just because I cannot get them made right here. I have been buying my clothes from the London tailor for 45 years and I shall continue to do so until I go."

The American tailors are evidently not good enough to make clothes for an Englishman.

FRENCH ARMY IS IN PINK OF CONDITION

Enters Spring Campaign Stronger

War's Beginning

WILD FLOWERS IN WAR ZONE

(U. S. Staff Correspondent.)

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
Paris, April 13.—The most important—probably the most decisive campaign of the great war—has begun with the French army in the pink of condition, stronger and more effective by far than at the beginning last summer.

I have just returned from the trenches. Spring has come to the war zone. The preliminary clashes of the great death struggle in northern France are being fought amid a fairly land of wild flowers.

By official invitation I made the trip to the French front. Before leaving I was told I might see anything I wished.

CASE INVOLVES AMERICAN SHIP

Wilhelmina Will Come Before British Prize Court Soon—Detained Under Embargo

ENGLAND MUST PAY FOR FOOD

(By United Press.) London Apr. 13.—Trial in the British prize court of the case of the steamer Wilhelmina the American food ship detained under the British anti-German food embargo was scheduled today. The case is among those on the calendar for the Easter court term, but may not be reached for a few days.

Counsel for the St. Louis owner of the Wilhelmina's food cargo today outlined the United States' case, which was the subject of sharp protest from the State Department. It will be contended that the food cargo was consigned to the American owner at Bremen and therefore, was not subject to confiscation by the German government for military purposes. Great Britain on the other hand, will contend that the German military authorities could have seized the food and thus evade England's "starvation" policy against Germany.

The Wilhelmina itself is not seized and, if her cargo is confiscated England will pay her owners for the food seized.

Wilhelmina, optometrist can tell you if this is the cause. Read add page 5. 2616.

A Wild West Girl Abroad

By DELIA BREWERTON

Helen Gordon was a ranch girl. She was born on her father's ranch and lived on it till she was fourteen years of age, then was sent east to school. She was no great student, not because it was hard for her to learn; but because she was pining for the wild life of the west.

At eighteen she returned to her home and resumed her former habits. She was an excellent shot and rider and could stand any amount of exposure. By a campfire under a tree she slept more comfortably than in a bed.

Helen was obstinate. When she was twenty and announced to her father that she was going to Europe to visit those countries of which she had heard so much he knew that it would be useless to attempt to stop her.

When Helen departed she was escorted to a railroad station some twenty miles distant from her home by a dozen or more cowboys, each one of whom would have attacked a regiment of wildcats to win a smile from her. When the train moved off they were drawn up in line beside the track on horseback and fired a salute from their revolvers, which she returned, from one she carried slung to her waist under the skirt of her dress.

Helen first saw the old world in the Pillars of Hercules, two mountains, one on either side of the strait of Gibraltar, and landed not many miles from the base of Vesuvius. When a month had passed she had not yet left Naples. She made acquaintances rapidly, but so unconventional were her ways in that land of conventionality for women that members of her own sex, even though they understood her and looked upon her as being a thoroughly good girl, did not dare countenance her.

This troubled her. Why it was that innumerable men were markedly attentive to her and few women seemed to care to be intimate with her she could not understand. One elderly American lady who realized her innocence endeavored to caution her by telling her that in a land full of criminals it was not safe to go about alone. Helen did not know what fear was and, misunderstanding the purport of the caution, continued to go about without a chaperon.

But one day her eyes were opened very suddenly and very wide. While visiting Pompeii with a party she overheard an Italian prince make disparaging remarks about "that American girl," it being plain that he referred to her. She was not only wounded in spirit, but indignant, the former feeling giving place to the latter. She had once confronted a grizzly bear, which, for reasons best known to itself, retreated on sight, but had been brought down by a ball from her rifle. She did not regard Prince Leonardo di Giuda as formidable as the grizzly, and she was not sufficiently versed in foreign ways to know that it was not considered a lady's part to protect her good name by a man's methods.

Helen concealed the fact that she had overheard the slurring remark and finished her visit to Pompeii without any one knowing that she was hot with indignation. On the way back to Naples she asked one of the gentlemen of the party, an Italian, what he would do to a man who had spoken contemptuously of a woman he loved and respected. He replied that he would call the man out under the code duello.

The next morning Di Giuda received a note written in a feminine hand and signed "H. G.," asking him to meet her in a certain retired spot that she named on the outskirts of Naples that night at 11 o'clock. Without the signed initials Di Giuda would have looked upon the note as a trap to enable some one to rob him. He was not sure the note was genuine; but, with his opinion of Helen Gordon, he thought it very probable it was. He decided to grant the interview.

At the hour named, well armed to guard against treachery, he drove up in a carriage to the appointed place and, alighting, walked into a field dimly lighted. No one was near, and, realizing the character of many of the lower grade of people of Naples, he kept his hand on his revolver. Suddenly a figure stepped out from behind a bush and, throwing back a cloak, revealed a woman.

"Signorina Gordon?" exclaimed Di Giuda.

"I am."

"I assure you I feel highly honored at your request to meet you. What can I do for you?"

"Sign this paper."

She handed him a paper and produced a light from under her cloak by which he read it. It was an acknowledgment that he was beneath contempt to have attacked a woman's reputation without cause.

"I will not sign that," he said.

"Very well," replied Helen, stepping from him some ten paces; "you may draw. I will not shoot you down like a dog."

The man attempted to argue, but a bullet grazing his cheek admonished him that the case was serious. He would gain nothing by fighting a woman. He chose the lesser of two evils—he signed.

What use Helen made of the paper is not known, but there was a sudden fervor in her favor. She was there after accepted by her own sex and courted by men. When she returned to America she married a ranchman.

HARTFORD CITY MAN ESCAPES THE KNIFE

Charles Inman Able to Go to Work After Operation Was Avoided.

Charles Inman, 424 East Chestnut street, Hartford City, Ind., was desperately ill with stomach trouble. He was advised to go to Fort Wayne for an operation.

Then he took Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and in a short time was able to go back to work. In a letter he said:

"My disease started seven years ago. I had to give up and go to bed. Four doctors said they could not cure me unless I went to Fort Wayne to be operated on, and that it would cost $150 or $200. My daughter saw your advertisement and I took your treatment. In three weeks I went to work and haven't missed but one-half day since from sickness. It surely saved my life."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. ARRANGEMENTS TO INITIATE BIG CLASS

Knights of Columbus From Four Councils Meet Here and Plan For Meeting Here May 9.

REPRESENTATIVES PRESENT

At a meeting of the Knights of Columbus held in this city last evening it was decided to hold a joint initiation in this city on May 9. The initiation will be from four Councils, of Shelbyville, Connersville, Greensburg and this city. At the meeting last evening representatives from Shelbyville and Connersville were here and the arrangements were about completed.

Those from Shelbyville that attended were: Charles DeBanto, Charles Campbell, Edwin Seller, B. A. Sollers, Lawrence Sollers, Carl Webben, Sam Hendrickson, Lawrence Rehmie and John Gobel. Thomas Ford, Edward Hosey and Pete Morris represented Connersville. The meeting here in May will attract a large number of people and a large class will be initiated.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Well-known local druggist says every body is using old-time recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that, even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

.... Dress Fabrics of Every Kind....

Spring styles are settled. Women have seen and admired the modes—many garments are being planned. The question you ask is,

WHERE SHALL I PURCHASE?

It must be a source of pleasure and satisfaction for women to know that they can find here in one place—under the rays of clear daylight—most of the favored weaves and colors in silks, dress goods and wash goods. It must be an additional satisfaction to know that it is impossible to select from these vast stocks a yard of unreliable goods, and lastly it must be good to know that because of our policy of moderate pricing, the utmost value is obtained. Among the choicest woolen weaves are gaberdine, poplin, whipcord, satin prunella, French serge and men's wear serge.

¶ Supplemented with an up-to-the-minute Ladies' Home Journal pattern, any of the above fabrics will make you an unexcelled costume.

CLAIMS ILLEGAL AFTER TEN DAYS

Requirements of Law Concerning Requests for Payment for Stock Killed by Dogs

INSTRUCTIONS TO TRUSTEES

Notified That Claims Must be Actually Filed Within Time Provided in the Act

Strict compliance with the law by farmers who file claims with the township trustee for the value of stock or fowls killed or maimed by dogs is required by the state board of accounts and a recent letter that has been sent out is of interest to every farmer in Rush county. The law of 1897 provides that such claims shall be filed within ten days after such stock or fowls are killed or injured. Trustees are notified that claims filed after the expiration of the ten days' period are not legal and must be rejected. It is also stated in the letter from the state board of accounts that the claims must be actually filed under oath within that time and that notification over the telephone or by the letter will not suffice.

There has been some dispute as to when the ten days' period started but the state board of accounts clears this up by stating that it begins when the stock or fowl was injured or killed. If stock is attacked and lives for several days the owner must file within ten days after the animal was injured. Each claim must be accompanied by an affidavit of the claimant and also two freehold witnesses. The money with which the claims are paid is taken from a fund created by the dog license law. The claim is based upon the actual market value of the stock.

Another interesting feature of the letter is that a claim cannot be filed for the death of stock resulting from hydrophobia as it does not develop in less than fourteen days. By that time, it is pointed out, the time for filing the claim would have expired.

The letter is as follows:

"To All Township Trustees:

"This department begs to submit the following on the matter of paying claims from the dog fund as provided by sections 3269 and 3270, Burns' R. S., 1914:

"1. Claims against this fund must show that the stock was killed, maimed or damaged by a dog or dogs and must be sworn to by the owner and by two disinterested and reputable freeholders.

"2. The claim must state the number, age and the actual cash value of the stock that is injured or killed, and the amount of damage sustained.

"3. The claim must be filed with the trustee within ten (10) days from the time when the injury was done. The ten-day period does not begin with the death of the animal but with the day when the dog bites or injures the animal.

"It is practically impossible to establish a legal claim against the fund for the loss of an animal by hydrophobia after the animal dies. Hydrophobia never develops within less than fourteen (14) days after the bite of the rabid animal. The death occurs some days later. It cannot be known that the animal is infected with the disease germs until hydrophobia develops.

"4. An animal may be infected with hydrophobia by animals other than dogs. To establish the claim, it must be proven that the animal was infected by a dog.

"5. No claim can be paid for injury to stock done by a dog owned or harbored by the owner of the stock.

"6. Trustees should guard this fund carefully. They should require the statute to be strictly complied with, and pay no doubtful claims.

"This department will carefully scrutinize all claims paid from this fund."

MASONIC MEETING.

Phoenix Lodge, No. 62 F. & A. M. will hold their regular stated meeting tonight at 7:30. A large attendance is urged.

SIMPLE WAY TO END DANDRUFF

Stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.
